

Two Omaha University Coaches in Spotlight

Gorr to Coach Track Team in London, England

By Arlo Grafton

Omaha University's Ernie Gorr has again stepped into the international spotlight as a track coach.

This time it is to be the team leader for a four-man track team from the United States that will compete in an indoor track meet in London, England, March 16-17.

Mr. Gorr, who is an assistant professor of physical education and cross country coach, was the coach of the British Guiana team in the 1959 Pan-American Games.

He was selected for this trip by the Amateur Athletic Union from a list of available team leaders that includes coaches from all over the country. He was third on the list and had a choice of three different places to go for the AAU.

His three choices were Trinidad, Northern Africa or London.

Mr. Gorr was twelfth on a list as a coach for the United States track team that competed in Russia last summer.

Four Members

The members of the team that Coach Gorr will lead include:

—Gary Gruber, a sophomore at New York University who has broken the indoor shot put record and has a heave of 64 ft. 11 in. He is currently ranked as the second best shot putter off all time.

—Cary Weisiger, a Marine stationed at Quantico, Va., who is one of the top distance runners in the country. He pushed Jim Beatty to a new record in the indoor mile run. He also is an outstanding two-and-three miler.

—Paul Winder, a former Morgan State sprinter, who has run in the top indoor meets in the Eastern part of the country and provided stiff competition for sprinters such as Frank Budd, who is tagged as the fastest human ever.

—Bill Johnson, from Maryland, who is considered as one of the best hurdlers in the U.S. He has finished one-tenth of a second off the times of Olympic champion, Hayes Jones.

Indeed an Honor

Mr. Gorr considers this trip to London and the one to the Pan-American Games as the highlights of his 29 years of coaching. He said, "It is indeed an honor to coach teams of this nature in top competition."

He is scheduled to leave for London from New York City next Wednesday, March 14.

This honor comes on the heels of another recently received by the OU coach.

He was selected as a member of the International People-to-People Committee by the State Department as a result of his work in British Guiana in 1959.

Major Emilio Ratti Soon to Be Colonel

Maj. Emilio P. Ratti, Omaha University's AFROTC Director of Instruction, will be officially promoted to Lieutenant Colonel next Thursday, March 15.

The new Colonel has spent slightly over 11 years as a Major and has been on active duty for over 19 years.

His promotion is the third to be received by a member of the Detachment staff, and marks the third time the University has had two Colonels on the staff. The other is Lieutenant Colonel Swenson, the Professor of Air Science.

President Bail told Major Ratti of his promotion Monday.

Flu Shots Available

The Student Health Center still has flu shots available for all University students at $1 a shot.

Ernie Gorr

Al Caniglia

Omaha University coaches Ernie Gorr and Al Caniglia have recently been honored for work done in their respective sports. Coach Gorr (left) points to England where he will coach a four-man track team from the United States. The team will compete in an indoor meet in London, March 16-17. Coach Caniglia is displaying the plaque that was presented to him by the Rockne Club of Kansas City as the Little All-American Coach of the Year. The award was presented in Kansas City, March 1.

Caniglia Chosen Coach of Year By Rockne Club

By Tom Ash

Congratulations are in order for OU's Al Caniglia, who has been named Little All-American Coach of the Year.

The Indian-head football coach was so honored March 1 by the Rockne Club of Kansas City for the improvement his 1961 team made over the previous season.

After receiving the award, Caniglia said that he is "very happy the Rockne Club chose me as Coach of the Year, but I believe the bulk of the credit must go to my assistants, the football squad and the loyal fans."

The award to Coach Caniglia puts OU football back in the national spotlight for the first time since 1954 when Lloyd Cardwell's Indians were undefeated and beat Eastern Kentucky, State, 7-6 in the Tangerine Bowl.

Situation Floundering

When Caniglia took over the reins from Cardwell in 1960, the OU football situation was floundering from several poor seasons. It was his job to rebuild the school's football stature.

This was not an easy job. The first season, 1960, Caniglia's skinny squad posted a 1-7-1 mark.

The Rockne Club noted that the job was made doubly tough by the pressure created by an athletic investigation last spring.

The Student Activities Committee was faced with the problem of alleviating a situation caused by poor athletic teams and financial loss. Possible solutions recommended were: dropping football altogether, discontinuing the grant-in-aid program and dropping from the CIC Conference.

Spring Alumni Game

With the football future uncertain, it seemed necessary for the team to make an impressive showing in the spring Alumni game. And Caniglia's charges roared back in the second half to down the Alums 28-3. The year before the Alumni had won 14-0. That win, plus a big gate made the future look a little brighter, and the Athletic Sub-committee agreed to let things stand as they were.

The spring indication proved to be true as the '61 team won six and lost three, with one of the losses a 13-12 decision at the hands of Colorado Mines. This record was good enough for second place in the CIC, compared to the last place finish the year before.

Caniglia is the second coach on the OU staff to be honored by the Rockne Club. Lloyd Cardwell, now track coach, received the award for his efforts with the Tangerine Bowl squad in 1954.

OU Drill Team Adds Comedy

Omaha University's AFROTC Department has a new drill team, a comedy drill team. It is in addition to the Angles and the Sabres flights.

The Comedy Drill Team now in its infancy is the first one at the University. It is under the supervision of Cadet 2nd Lt. Harold G. Styer, who is also the commander of the AFROTC Band.

The commander is Cadet MSgt. Robert E. Burdge, and the Executive officer is Cadet TSgt. Robert M. Iakisch; they are the only Sabres on the team, and do not march in the flight.

Included in the three scheduled performances is one at the University's Military Ball.

The team now has 14 of the "worst" marchers in the Cadet Group. The best nine of the "worst" 14 will march together for the performances.

Debaters Try State Contest

Six Omaha University students will compete in the Nebraska Intercollegiate Forensic Association State Tournament at Lincoln today and tomorrow.

The tournament is comparable to state debate finals and will produce Nebraska collegiate debate champions.

Representing OU in the Senior Men's Debate Division are Stan Zwilling and Max Voigt.

The Senior Women's Debate Division is represented by Mary Evans and Arlene Grossman.

In the Senior Discussion Division, OU is represented by Bill Stillmock and Ron Bojanski.

Junior Division Discussion team members are Larry Hicks and Larry Juul.

'Doc Evans' Back For Two Shows

"Doc" Evans and his Rampart Street Dixieland Jazz Band will appear on campus tonight and tomorrow night for two concerts sponsored by the College of Adult Education.

Evans and his six-man group played here last summer to a standing-room-only audience. He has been described as "incredibly good" by Time magazine and as "perhaps the greatest jazz musician since Bix Beiderbecke" by Saturday Review.

In his current concerts, Evans briefly traces the origins and development of American jazz and then demonstrates with his band.

Tonight's concert, starting at 8 in the Conference Center Auditorium, will be a University Nights event. University students and guests of University Nights members will be admitted at 1 per person.

Tomorrow night's concert will be a special student activity to which all students registered in the College of Adult Education will be admitted free. All others, such as day students, guests of the evening students and interested members of the community will be admitted for $1. The concert starts at 8 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. Doors will be open at 7.

Official Notices

Monday night's movie in the Student Center is "Pillow Talk." The movie will be held at 7:30 in the ballroom.

Smooth and expressive readers will have an opportunity to try out for three Readers Theater projects Tuesday, March 13, and Wednesday, March 14, in Room 110, Adm. 3:30 to 5 p.m.

There will be no TGIF dance this afternoon or next Friday afternoon.

The ARADCOM choral group will appear on the University of Omaha campus April 9.

Dr. Ralph Wardle, chairman of the English department, has named March 23, two weeks from today, as the deadline for material to be turned in for the spring Grain of Sand. Dr. Wardle said that essays and short stories under 2,000 words and poems under 40 lines will be given preference.

Pi Mu Alpha sinfonia will announce the winners of the snow sculpturing and poster contests at a dance at 4 p.m. today. The dance will be held in the Student Center ballroom.

Play Tickets Go; Seats 'Filling Fast'

Students desiring tickets for "Look Homeward, Angel," are advised to get them soon from the Administration Building box office.

Seats for Friday and Saturday nights are filling up quickly, according to Ivan Christiansen, business manager.

The box office will be open today from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. It will be open tomorrow night from 6:30 to 8:30.

Tickets are free to all students with an activity card; non-students may buy them for $1.50. All seats are reserved.

YR Request Goldwater

Omaha University Young Republicans have asked Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater to speak on campus this month.

"And there is an outside chance he might come," YR advisor William Utley said this week.

Goldwater is slated to speak at a regional convention of Republicans on March 30 at Lincoln.

The OU Young Republicans are asking Goldwater to work in a speech at the University before going to Lincoln.

President Milo Bail has approved of the invitation, Utley said.

The University YR group has elected Hollis Merritt as chairman.

Other officers are: Mary Carlson, vice-chairman; Jeanne Dayton, secretary; and Dan Flood, treasurer.

Banjo Strummers Wanted for Play

The music department is canvassing the student scene searching for a banjo player. The position is open to anyone with two qualifications: banjo playing ability and music reading ability.

A banjo player is needed to perform with the orchestra in the school musical "Little Abner." Applicants should see Dr. Peterson, head of the Department of Music.

NSF Grant Aids Physics Study

A member of the physics department has received a National Science Foundation grant.

Mr. Charles Sedlacek, an assistant instructor, received the $125 grant through the Nebraska College Teachers Development Program.

Mr. Sedlacek will use the grant to aid in his study of atmospheric potential gradients and spherics.

A 1959 OU graduate, Mr. Sedlacek is in his third year of teaching at this university.

Editorial Comment

The Gateway welcomes Mr. Schicker's letter. We are always happy to find that students are aware of what goes on concerning other students on this campus. However, the implications drawn from the letter which appeared in the World-Herald letters to the editor column may have led some students to believe that the matter itself was to be dropped and forgotten.

This is not so.

A member of the Canterbury Club suggested that Omaha University take some sort of action against the restaurant involved.

An OU staff member told the person that it would not be wise to take any such action now.

It should be made clear that the students were not participating in a college-sponsored activity. They were acting as a private group. For this reason we believe the incident should not be pursued further by the University.

Letters to the Editor: . . .

Mergatroit vs TGIF

Dear Editor:

The official name of the Friday afternoon dances held in the Ouampi Room is T.G.I.F. These initials represent the words. Thank Goodness It's Friday.

When our committee decided to sponsor these dances many names were suggested for them. However, the committee selected T.G.I.F. because it best described the mild exuberance and anticipation which a forthcoming week end brings out in everyone. In view of the reaction of Mr. Kalgert in last week's Gateway, perhaps we should have called the dances H.T.M. ("Heavens to Mergatroit") Parties.

Colleen Richmond,
Student Center
Program Committee

The Indian tradition on campus dates back to the 1930's, when students borrowed ideas and Indian lore from the Omaha Indians at Macy, Nebraska.

Discrimination

Perhaps the Philip Sher Essay Contest on Mutual Respect Between Races and Religions would have been more timely had it been written during last week. An essayist would have found evidence of racial bigotry in Omaha.

I am referring to the incident that took place at a local restaurant when a Negro member of the Canterbury Club was refused service.

We are all aware of the blindness and prejudices of many people.

What is more frightening is the fact that after this incident the members of the Club were told to "keep quiet." One individual had enough courage to expose this racial bigotry.

I don't know who told the members to "keep quiet," but it seems to me to show a fear of bringing attention to racial discrimination.

Why were the students told to "keep quiet?" Why should they be made to suppress any action that might voice their disgust toward racial bias? Should they condone racial bigotry through silence?

An order of this sort is incongruous with the basic ethical and democratic tenets being taught in this University. What are students going to think when they are told to ignore discrimination against a human being?

No man has the right to set himself in any authoritarian position to tell any student to "keep quiet." This is repugnant and verges on the prevention of freedom of speech.

Stephen Mathias Schicker

Earl Is Chairman For Fourth Year

For the fourth consecutive year, Dr. James M. Earl is state chairman of the Nebraska division of the Annual High School Mathematics Contest.

Dr. Earl, head and professor of the mathematics department, also serves on a 10-member regional panel which advises the nation-wide contest.

Some 145 schools and close to three thousand students participated in the contest in Nebraska alone yesterday.

Sabres, Rifle Team Competing in Illinois

The Sabres drill team of Omaha University has left for Chanute AFB, Ill., for the University of Ill. Invitational Drill Competition.

The Sabres will be in competition with about fifty of the best drill teams in the country.

The AFOTC Rifle team is traveling with the Sabres and will compete in the National Rifle Team Competition.

They left this morning on their 12-hour bus ride, and will return home late Sunday.

Dr. Edwin L. Clark, director of the University Theater, has announced that additional auditions will be held for "Li'l Abner," the spring musical. The auditions will be at 7 p.m. in the main auditorium on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Those who are interested are asked to come, as well as those who have already auditioned. No castings have been made.

Casadesus Concert Warmly Applauded

Jean Casadesus, the famed French pianist, gave a stirring performance before an appreciative audience at the Gene Eppley Conference Auditorium Friday night.

In his opening number, "Fantasia in C Minor" by Bach, he displayed the artistry and feeling that delighted audiences in Israel, Vienna and Berlin during a recent tour.

He next performed Beethoven's "Sonata No. 23 in F Minor" and presented the themes and innuendos with all the skill it demands.

Mr. Casadesus's next two numbers, "Nocturne, C-Sharp" and "Ballade in G Minor" by Chopin, received standing ovations.

A change in pace was introduced with six preludes by the French Impressionist, Debussy, and he ended his program with Chabrier's "Bourree Fantasque."

The audience called Mr. Casadesus back for two encores which he modestly accepted by presenting two modern pieces.

The first was the fast "In the Manner Borodin" by the French composer Ravel and the second was the theme from Prokofiev's "Scherzo Sonata No. 2."

An audience of over 200 applauded Mr. Casadesus's performance with all the appreciation and enthusiasm he deserved.

The mild mannered Frenchman is appearing before American audiences since completing his European tour last year. His gracious manner and superb styling have endeared him to all his audiences.

In 1947 he was the winner of the Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest and he won the First Medal at the Geneva International Youth Competition in 1948.

We were indeed fortunate to have had the opportunity to enjoy his fine music and sincerely hope that the University continues to schedule fine programs such as this for the future enjoyment of appreciative audiences.

University Theater Presents "My Uncle"

The French film, "My Uncle," a satire on the contemporary addiction to mechanical gadgetry, will be presented by the University Cinema March 12.

Directed by M. Tati and starring Jacques Tati, the film was the special award winner at the Cannes Film Festival.

It will be shown at 8 p.m. in the Conference Center Auditorium.

Men's Glee Invites Participants

By Steve Gould

The Omaha University Men's Glee is stretching its vocal chords, preparing for five engagements in March and April.

The "about 30" voice choir will sing a variety of selections, ranging from "There Is Nothin' Like a Dame," the smash-hit from "South Pacific," to "Testament of Freedom," a neo-classical piece based on Thomas Jefferson's writings.

Men's Glee will perform March 19 for the Central Association of Physical Education for College Women convention. March 20, Washington School's P-TA will be entertained, and March 21, the Glee will sing during an assembly at Bennington High School.

The Glee will combine with Phi Mu Alpha's lab band at Tech High to give the Tech students an idea of the high caliber of the OU Music Department and boost

OU in general on April 4.

On April 24, the OU orchestra will join the Glee for the American Heritage series.

Men's Glee Director, Melvin Olson, is in his second year directing the Glee, which has been around OU for many years but revived four years ago.

Before coming to the University, Mr. Olson taught at Kalamazoo (Mich.) High School.

Since coming to Omaha, Mr. Olson has been active in vocal music, both directing and singing.

Last Christmas season, he was Balthazar in "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

When asked about requirements for participating in Men's Glee, Mr. Olson said all that is necessary is a desire to sing.

"We have a fine organization," he said, "but there's always room for more."

Greek's Plan Annual Dinner

The Annual Greek Week Banquet, presented jointly by the Panhellenic Council and the Inter Fraternity Council, will be Friday, March 16, at 6 p.m. in the OU Student Center Ballroom.

After the dinner will be a dance at 9 p.m. featuring the Dave Kavich dance band.

Cost for the banquet and dance is $2.25 per person. Decorations will be in charge of the Junior Panhellenic Council.

The Greek Week Banquet is the climax of the week set up by OU's greek letter fraternities as a week of service and community activity. Trophies for outstanding achievement will be presented at the after dinner ceremonies.

Trophies will be presented to: the fraternity and sorority pledges with the highest grade average; the winners of the OU sports intramurals; the fraternity and the sorority with the highest average grade point for the past two semesters, and to the fraternity and sorority active members with the highest accumulative grade point.

Guest speaker for the after dinner ceremonies will be Victor Toft, president of Sidles Company. His speech will follow the Greek Week theme of "responsibility."

Orchesis Gains 8 New Members

Eight new members were selected for Orchesis, the modern dance honorary, at tryouts Feb. 27.

The new members include Mary Abersfeller, Rose Allender, Kathy Bowman, Gail Browning, Carol Carsey, Martha Hollenbeck, Milda Markus and Sheri Speer.

At the Central Association of Physical Education for College Women Convention March 19, Orchesis will present a dance program, containing numbers from their fall concert. The 3 p.m. show in the Student Center will entertain college physical education teachers from a seven-OU area.

The Central District Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation will hold its annual convention in Omaha at the Sheraton-Fontenelle Hotel March 21-23. Orchesis will present a program the 23rd for the student section of the district, which covers a nine-state area.

Canterbury to Meet

The Canterbury Club for college-age young people will meet March 11 at Trinity Cathedral, 18th and Capitol.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 with evening prayer. Dr. James Peterson, chairman of the University music department, will speak on the "Music of the Church."

B-strap Coffee Held

The College of Adult Education held a coffee hour for the bootstrappers in the Student Center last Tuesday.

The CAE holds this get-acquainted hour at the beginning of every semester for the new bootstrappers on campus.

Chi Omega Initiation To Take Place Today

Chi Omega initiation ceremonies will begin today at 5 p.m. at All Saints Episcopal Church.

Brecher Crowned At Annual Dance

Judy Brecher of Alpha Xi Delta sorority was crowned Lambda Chi Alpha Mardi Gras Queen last Friday evening.

Other candidates were Carla Ballering of Sigma Kappa, Midge Butters of Zeta Tau Alpha and Sharon Allen of Chi Omega.

The Savoy Seven played for the dance held at the Carter Lake Club.

A pre-party was held for Lambda Chi's and their dates at John Hofschire's home.

Skarnulis, Peterson New Sig Ep Officers

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity held installation of new officers at their formal meeting Tuesday night at the Sheraton-Fontenelle Hotel.

Ed Skarnulis is the new president; Jack Petersen, vice president; Roger Hilding, comptroller; Terry Bernth, secretary and Gary Masilko, historian.

Sign Up Ends Today for Angels

Today is the last day for making out applications for Angels Flight in Room 177 of the Administration Building.

Qualifications for Angels Flight are 2.3 cumulative average, campus activities and desire to promote Angels Flight.

Any woman whose application is approved will be contacted at the time of her interview. Interviews will take place during the week of March 19 through 23.

From the women interviewed, final selection of Angels will be made and will be announced at the Military Ball, April 6.

Chi Omega's Entertain Handicapped Children

Chi Omega held its annual party for the handicapped children at the Opportunity Center, 5016 California St., March 7 from 7-8:30 p.m.

Doris Handley planned the entertainment, which included skits, games and refreshments.

OU Bridge Group Chooses Officers

The Omaha University Chapter of the Contract Bridge Association elected new officers at their last meeting.

The officers are: John Cady, president; John Aboud, vice president; Alan Kirk, secretary; Jim Gammon, treasurer and Georgia Clark and David Smith, tournament directors.

The club discussed plans for a tournament which will be held in about three weeks; this tournament will be duplicate bridge. Following the tournament, bridge instruction parties will be held.

The Bridge Club meets on alternate Thursdays in the Student Center and is open to anyone interested in bridge.

CORRECTION

It was erroneously reported in last week's Gateway that the theme of Greek Week was "Progress." "Responsibility" is this year's theme.

Sigma Kappa Holds Activation Ceremony

Sigma Kappa will hold its activation ceremonies at the House and Garden Room of the Blackstone Hotel March 25 at 3 p.m.

A banquet, honoring the new actives, will follow at 5:30 p.m. Carole Kucera, Sigma Kappa pledge with the highest average, and Mrs. Henry C. Lucas, alumni member, will speak at the banquet.

Biology Club Meets

The next meeting of the Biology Club will be March 15 at 3:30 p.m. in the Adm. Bldg., Room 344.

The new officers elected this semester are: Eddie Powers, president; Judy Williams, vice president and Doris Handley, secretary-treasurer.

The sign of the amateur

LESSON 5 - The importance of head control

We are told that bird watchers, who always take notes while they watch, are able to keep one eye on the bird and one eye on the notebook. Eye dexterity of this type is also a great asset to the girl watcher. It enables him to watch two girls at the same time, even when the girls are sitting on opposite sides of a classroom. The beginner, who must watch the girls one at a time in a situation of this type, must learn to restrict his movements to the eyeballs. The girl watcher never moves his head. Undue head-turning, particularly if it is accompanied by shouts or whistles, is the sign of the amateur. (If you want something to shout about, try a Pall Mall!)

In Intramurals . . . Postal Team Bowls in Sioux Falls, S. D., Places Second

Bowling

The Omaha University postal bowling team attended the face-to-face roll-off for the North Central Conference Bowling League at Sioux Falls, S. D., Saturday, March 3.

The team, consisting of Al Kirk, Frank Tapy, Tom Dougherty, Keith Moeller, and Al Whittaker, finished second to St. Mary's College of Winona, Minn.

St. Mary's had 57.49 Peterson points to OU's 54.42. St. Cloud State College was third with 50.89 points.

Not only did the team finish second in the roll-off, it also finished second to a blizzard.

On returning home, the roads were closed with the heavy snow and the members, along with Intramural Director Bert Kurth, had to stay at a farm house four miles north of Beresford, S. D.

Twenty-five persons were stranded at the farm for about 20 hours before the highways were opened. Winds up to 35 miles per hour caused drifts up to 15 feet in some places.

The team returned home Monday afternoon instead of Sunday as originally scheduled.

The Pi's took over sole possession of first place in intramural bowling at the West Lanes Wednesday afternoon.

This broke a tie with the Crew who dropped to second after a long reign on the top peg.

The Pi Kaps, fourth last week moved into third place with Tri Chi taking over fourth position. The Lams dropped from third to fifth place.

Mickey Coren posted the high individual series and game for the day. He had a 238 game along with a 635 series.

The Crew captured the high team honors posting a 766 game and a 2215 series.

Bowling Standings

Basketball

Bill Campbell, Theta Chi, captured the scoring honors in the Ien's intramural basketball league for the second year in a row.

He pumped in 183 points, three more than runner-up Gary Sindelar, Panther, who finished with 180.

WRA to Attend NU Conference

Four members of the Women's Recreation Association will attend the ARFCW North Central Regional Conference at the University of Nebraska, March 15-17.

Mary Abersfellary, Arlene Baker, Dorothy Brian, and Sharon Irwin plan to attend the Conference. The Conference will feature discussion groups and meetings aimed at showing problems, objectives and organization of WRA programs.

Althea Gibson will highlight the Conference with demonstrations and exhibition games in tennis.

In Women's Recreation Association basketball competition last week Chi Omega defeated Zeta Tau Alpha on Tuesday, Feb. 27; Unaffiliated proved victorious over Alpha Xi Delta on Wednesday, Feb. 28; and the ISA-Sigma Kappa contest on Thursday, March 1, resulted in a forfeit.

Next week's schedule will find Chi Omega and ISA meeting on Tuesday night; Zeta Tau Alpha and ISA will compete on Wednesday night; and Alpha Xi Delta and Chi Omega will square off on Thursday night.

Joe Beaton, Zeke Moe Joes, was third with 169 tallies.

Swimming

The intramural swimming meet is scheduled for April 8 at the Jewish Community Center.

You may enter as a team or individually.

Further information may be obtained in the intramural office, Room 240, or the Administration Building.

Sayers Leads Indoor Scoring

Roger Sayers scored 69 overall points during the indoor track season this year to lead the team in scoring.

Full points were given if a runner received a fraction of a point during league competition.

The outdoor track season will get under way next Monday in the fieldhouse or outside if the weather permits.

Injuries Slow Two on Indian Diamond Club

Injuries have slowed two veterans on Omaha University's baseball club that is only in its second week of work-outs.

Moundsman Mike Coughlin suffered a back injury in the first week of practice and has not been in practice togs this week. Coughlin is one of two returning lettermen on OU's mound staff.

An old knee injury again had first baseman Kenny Allen on the shelf. The knee was acting up again and it was drained keeping Allen out of any practice action.

The Indian ball club, limited in its first 10 days of practice, was moving at a more rapid pace with the removal of the basketball floor.

The club must now wait until the snow melts to venture outdoors for intersquad games. Baseball Coach Virgil Yelkin said that no cut will be made until then. All candidates will get a chance to make the club in the intersquad games, he said.

Several OU baseball candidates have had no rest from their athletic duties since basketball started last October.

Cagers Ken Conner, Gary Gilmore, Paul Kaster, Steve Lipman and Joe Neuberger reported immediately to the diamond squad after completion of the cage season.

Wrestler Wayne Backes will join the squad after a short rest following completion of the NAIA wrestling tourney March 16 and 17. Backes also played football last fall.

Wrestling Team to Compete in NAIA Tourney, March 16-17

With the announcement that OU will compete in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championships, Indian wrestlers romped over Northwest Missouri, 17-9 in the last match of the regular season Monday night at the Fieldhouse.

After dropping the first two matches by decisions Omaha regained some of its prestige when co-captain Louie Miloni pinned Ralph Messerli in 5:01.

George Crenshaw gave Omaha a 11-9 edge by scoring an easy triumph over Tom Croxell in the 167-pound division.

Wayne Backes lengthened the Indian lead to 14-9, heavyweight Art Ferguson then squeezed past Charles Botter 3-1 in the last two seconds.

The other Omaha co-captain, Jim Howard, ended his dual meet career with a 5-3 decision.

The NAIA tournament will be held in Winona, Minnesota, on March 16-17.

In the first wrestling match between the two schools Omaha U. lost a bitterly contested tussle to the University of Nebraska, 14-12, at the Lincoln Coliseum last Friday night.

The Indians entered the final match holding a 12-9 lead, with Art Ferguson facing Nebraska's unbeaten Jim Raschke. The Omaha heavyweight needed only to avoid a pin to secure a team tie. The referee four times awarded penalty points to Raschke when he charged Ferguson with stalling. With only three seconds remaining in the match he disqualified Ferguson which brought wide disapproval from the stands. Raschke is rated as the nation's number one heavyweight.

Nebraska's Dave Cook who previously had a record of seven wins without a defeat couldn't lengthen this string when he lost 5-3 to Omaha's scrappy Louie Miloni. Andre McWilliams followed up on Miloni's upset by decisioning John McIntyre, 6-2.

George Crenshaw, 167 and Wayne Backes, 177, contributed two victories and put Omaha into the lead going into the final match.

Students will receive a 25 percent tuition refund if they drop classes this week or next week. If a student drops a course or withdraws after March 16, no refunds will be issued.

No classes can be dropped after March 30 without receiving a grade of "F" on a student's permanent record.

Tennis

All those wishing to play tennis this spring and didn't attend the meeting in Coach Ernie Gorr's office last Wednesday should see him in his office, Room 111 of the Applied Arts Building this afternoon.

If it is impossible to see Mr. Gorr at this time, he should be contacted when he returns from his trip to London.

"Tareyton's Dual Filter in duas partes divisa est!" says Publius (Boon-Boon) Aurelius, Coliseum crowd-pleaser.

Says Boon-Boon, "Tareyton is one filter cigarette that really delivers de gustibus. Legions of smokers are switching. Try a couple of packs of Tareyttons. They're the packs Roman!"
